Site warnings

Posted by Toffe - 2018/03/20 19:46

_____

Hey there community.
I have had very little time to look after Altoguitar.com.
I would really like to migrate to newer software, but I just haven't had the time.

I will do my bets to try and build up a new forum eventually. Right now this site is flagged as dangerous. I don't quite know why and they won't give me any information on it so it's hard to solve.

Also there is a problem of thousands of bots trying to register on the site every month.

I'm sorry for this inconvenience. I'll do my best.

// Christoffer

==

Re:Site warnings

Posted by Ronin Minstrel - 2018/04/20 07:12

_____

Christoffer, this site has been incredibly helpful to me, and many others, as one of the richest sources of information on the alto guitar around. It's a valuable resource, and a friendly and supportive community.

My point is that your efforts are greatly appreciated, and if you need help or support from the members of this site, I'm sure it would be forthcoming if we knew how to aid you.

I would not be playing the alto guitar today if not for this site. I'm sure other people here would say the same.

Sean

==

Re:Site warnings

Posted by ninjasan - 2018/06/15 16:48

_____

Hi Toffe,

I had also site warnings when coming back here,
very strange,

Maybe it's because of an old file I uploaded years ago:
it was a auto-extractible Zip file with screen captures howto use Tabledit software for typesetting altoguitar sheet music.

I had an alert when trying to download it.
You could try to delete this old file.

I hope this could help,

Cheers,

christophe

==